1. Find, create, or photograph an artifact that represents a key part of the text you have read.

Tip: An artifact is a special object that reminds you of the characters, setting, or events of a fiction text, or the important ideas in a non-fiction text.

2. Identify the artifact and jot down on the BLM 4 or 5 reasons that you feel it connects to the text.
3. Using your artifact as a prop, show your text to some classmates and ask them to predict why you might have chosen this particular artifact to represent it.
4. List some other artifacts that you could use to represent elements of this text.
