

Newspaper Article

You are a newspaper reporter and your assignment is to write a news article about the latest text you have read.

1. Plan your article by answering the 5W's (who, what, where, why, when) and H (how) of newspaper reporting. Record the answers to these questions about your article on the web on the BLM.
2. Think of a catchy headline for your article and write it above your article.
3. Write the lead of your article by beginning with the most important details of the text you have read. Don't forget to include the title and author of the text in your opening sentences.

Tip: Remember to use your 5W's and H web to help you decide which details would be the most important.

4. Write the body of your article with enough details to inform the reader about the text you are reporting on.
5. Write the ending of the article. Ask a classmate who has read the text to talk about what they thought of the text. Use their personal reflection to write a quote about the text, and include the quote in the ending.
